

Chipstead Players Centenary Brick Order Form

The Chipstead Players were founded in 1924 by Robert Horton. A small troupe would meet up in their Chipstead homes doing play readings and performances, mainly Shakespeare pieces.

As the years went by, productions became more lavish, with staged performances of a huge variety of plays at The Peter Aubertin Hall. Sets were usually erected at the Hall in the week before a run, having been created at the Longshaw Stables where work and storage space was rented, with staging and lights brought back and forth in carts!

In 1995, a huge amount of fundraising and a lot of hard work led to the opening of the Players' own space in Chipstead, The Courtyard Theatre, a purpose-built 96-seat auditorium with dressing rooms, bars and workspace for set construction.

This amazing feat is made all the more astonishing when considering the fact that it was all done by volunteers with funds provided through donation, fundraisers and membership subscriptions. To this day, everything you see around you at the theatre is the result of voluntary work and voluntary donation. Without the ongoing hard work and generosity of the theatre's supporters, it simply would not exist.

2024 is our 100th year and to mark the Centenary of The Chipstead Players, we are intending to build a Centenary Wall. This will give members and friends of the The Chipstead Players an opportunity to make a permanent commemoration of their association with the theatre whilst at the same time, helping to raise much needed additional funds which will help us to maintain the building.

Why not mark your association with The Chipstead Players by buying a brick and leaving your message of support?

Bricks cost £99 each however, if you buy before 1st April 2024, you can enjoy a discount of £29, bringing the price down to just £70.
